Death of a Prominent Citizen. We regret to announce the death of William Cleary, Esq., one of our best-known citizens, who died at his residence in the village of Woodstock in this county on Saturday last, in the 69th year of his age. The deceased was well known as a thrifty and energetic business man, and strictly honorable in all his transactions. He immigrated to this country from Ireland when young and by his own industry amassed a fortune. Mr. Cleary had been ill for a long time and his death was not unexpected by his many friends. His popular agricultural monthly, the Amerifuneral was attended by a large throng can Farmer, has been removed from North of friends and acquaintances.

> Farm Animals. - The Bureau of Agriculture is in receipt of reports from many parts of the country in regard to the condition of farm animals. With few disease among the cattle and a "more than average healthfulness and thrift.' From the Alleghanies to the great plains turns indicate low condition. From some counties of the Gulf States and certain portions of Texas losses are reported from diseases resulting from miasma or lack of nutrition. No disease of any kind is reported as prevailing among horses, though, in Southern California, flocks of sheep have been suffering seriously from the effects of drought. In other parts of the country they are generally in good condition. Heavy losses are reported of hogs, particularly in the West and South.

A Young Girl Outraged by a Negro. - James R. Hawkins, colored, was arrested by Special Constable Perry G. Mitchell, of Baltimore county, on Monday last, on the charge of committing an outrageous assault on a little white Elkridge Landing. Situated near the tim passed through the farm on her way Thursday afternoon he stopped her and made some very insulting remarks to her, which the girl told her uncle, Mr. Henry Ringling, when she reached her home, but which did not meet with much attention, as Hawkins was considered a very good young mun.
